ENCOURAGING.

Wise Democrats Pleased With the Result in District and State.

Big Gains Made Over Last Year Because All Factions Are United.

Republican Organ Reads Alright the Handwriting on the Wall.

NO CONSOLATION FOR THE POST

There are a few Democrats in Louisville who have not recovered from the shock they received when they read the election returns from this, the Fifth Congressional district of Kentucky, Wednesday morning. These few can see nothing but defeat. The loss of the district to Bryan, the loss of four School Trustees and an Alderman and Park Commissioner seemed to be irretrievable ruin. Neither are they satisfied with eight Congressmen. They have forgotten what happened in Kentucky a year ago. If they will turn their memory backward a twelvemonth and compare what happened then with what has happened now, they will find cause for jubilation rather than disappointment; they will be encouraged to put on their armor for the fight next year and will go into battle with every hope of success.

Last year Hon. Augustus E. Willson, the Republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky, carried the State by 17,000 majority. This year it will give Bryan a majority of at least 11,000, which shows a reversal of 28,000 votes in the State. Last year Gov. Willson carried the city of Louisville by 9,000 majority, and Grinstead carried it by 4,000. This year Taffe majority in the entire district is less than 700, and Hon. Swager Sherley, the Democratic Congressional nominee, has a majority of over 2,000. Surely these figures must be encouraging to Democrats.

The Louisville Herald, the only straightfaced Republican daily in the city, admits that it is a Republican defeat. A year ago Mayor Grinstead assumed the helm of the city government. He has made mistakes, and the people were not pleased with his administration. They had an opportunity to show their displeasure last Tuesday, and they did it by repudiating Mayor Grinstead's proposition to issue $1,000,000 in bonds for the erection of a new City Hospital. One thing can be said for the Louisville Herald. It is the only newspaper in the city that is not selling the truth editorially as is possible in a newspaper. On Thursday the Herald said: "Louisville has gone back to its old time idolatry and is again worshipping at the shrine of Democracy. This is the simple significance of Tuesday's vote. The foolish and infatuated will seek to disguise or evade the fact." On the hospital bond proposition the Herald says: "In a crisis like the present there is nothing to be gained by glossing the truth. Mr. Kliecked polled 55,138 votes. The vote cast for the straight Republican vote. The bond issue received 10,480 votes. Granting that no Democrat voted for the bonds, which we think is hardly the case, the Republicans failed to endorse a measure originating with and fostered by their own administration." There can be no controversy over these facts or figures.

While the Louisville Herald draws conclusions and philosophizes, the poor old Evening Post has not one crumb of comfort left. The vote cast in the city of Louisville shows that the bulk of the people stand for civic liberty. The Post contended its fight against Swager Sherley, and Sherley was elected. The Post espoused the cause of the City Hospital bonds and 15,000 Republicans repudiated the measure.

County Clerk Mark Gabhart was disposed to act ugly Tuesday night after the boxes containing the ballots had been consigned to his care, and refused permission to Democratic watchers to remain in the Court House to see that the boxes were not tampered with. A storm of protests from the Democratic headquarters broke about his head, and Mr. Gabhart finally consented to allow one Democratic watcher to remain with the boxes. Mr. Gabhart is not making friends either for himself or his party. The episode at Twenty-fifth and Market is still fresh in the minds of many people.

Whichever way the Democrats look at the situation, it ought to appear encouraging. The factions headed by Messrs. Grainger, Whallen and Halde, man have given every evidence that they have reunited for party weal. Now is the time to organize for the next campaign. Do not delay until spring. Begin to perfect your already splendid organizations right now. With a clean ticket and a united Democracy the Grinstead-Bullitt-Foster regime will be swept into oblivion.

FRANKFORT Y. M. I.

Lambert Young Council, Y. M. I. of Frankfort, gave another of its popular euchres and dances Wednesday evening. The attendance was larger than heretofore.

ST. COLUMBA'S CELEBRATION.

On Sunday, November 15, St. Columba's church, Thirty-third and Market streets, will celebrate the second anniversary of its founding and the pastor, the Rev. Father John D. Kalsher, and his congregation are making elaborate plans for the occasion. Solemn high mass will be celebrated at 10:30 o'clock and solemn vespers will be sung at 7:30 in the evening. This will be followed by a lecture by the Rev. Father Fred W. Burget, S. T. L., of Montgomery, Ind. Many other local priests will assist at the morning and evening services.

CHAPEL CAR

Will Spend This and Two Succeeding Days in Louisville.

The new but famous "chapel car," dedicated to St. Anthony, is paying its first visit to Louisville. It will remain in the Union depot train shed, at Seventh and the river, today, tomorrow and Monday, in order that all the Catholics of the Falls Cities and vicinity may have a chance to view it and to judge whether this innovation is not filling a long felt want in the way of Catholic Church extension.

It is veritably a church on wheels, with altar, pews, vestment, etc., in the chapel proper, and dining and sleeping quarters for the chaplain that accompanies it on its tours. The chapel car was designed for work among the Catholics of the West and South who are hundreds of miles away from the ministrations of the Catholic clergy. It has done good work in States like Kansas, Arkansas, Iowa and Nebraska. To show what it is like, and with a view to encourage the faithful to provide more cars along similar lines, St. Anthony's chapel car has been touring the States east of the Mississippi river during the past two months. It is the only Catholic church on wheels in the world. Other creeds have had itinerant gospel wagons, but this is a regular railroad car transformed into a Catholic church. The gospel car is one of the first fruits of the Catholic Church Extension Society, and had from the beginning the approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop Quigley, of Chicago; Rev. Francis C. Kelley, Chairman of the Board of Governors, and in fact of the entire organization. The Rev. Father W. D. O'Brien is chaplain of the chapel car and has accompanied it on all its journeys over the United States.

The "church on wheels" was in Boston recently and was visited by 25,000 persons in one day, and during the recent national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at Indianapolis 19,000 persons visited the car in one day.

IRISH SCHOLAR

And Patriot Dies Member of Chicago's School Board.

The Chicago School Board has lost one of its ablest members in the demise of Percy Shelly O'Ryan, whose death occurred in the city last Saturday. The Chicago Tribune, which is never given to overdoing the thing where Irishmen are concerned, said on Saturday:

"Although quiet and deliberate in manner, Mr. O'Ryan's career, particularly before he came to America, was that of a fighter. He was born in Tashel, County Tipperary, Ireland, and educated at Maynooth College and the Royal University at Dublin. He left college just as Charles Stewart Parnell was beginning his historic movement to secure home rule for Ireland, and with characteristic vigor Mr. O'Ryan plunged into the midst of the fight."

After taking part in a particularly tumultuous meeting, he was sent to Kilmainham jail, where he spent some time in the company of Parnell, John Dillon, William O'Brien, William Redmond and other Irish patriots. On his release, although only a week over legal age, he was nominated for Tipperary for a seat in the British House of Commons, but declined because, as he said, he had decided to devote himself to journalism. This plan he followed out when he came to Chicago, about twenty-five years ago. For several years he was connected with the Inter Ocean, and then he studied law at Northwestern University, and in 1900 he left newspaper work definitely to begin the practice of law.

Political and religious work occupied much of his time. He was at one time editor of the Catholic Home News, the New World, and at various times was Secretary of the United Irish League of America and of the United Irish Societies in Chicago. He was a member of the Church of the Precious Blood, where the funeral services probably will be held. Mr. O'Ryan was appointed to the School Board by the younger Carter Harrison in 1903 and reappointed by Edward F. Dunne in 1906. His term of office would have expired next June. As a member of the board he was interested particularly in the formation of parents' clubs and neighborhood centers and urged the establishment of one in each school.

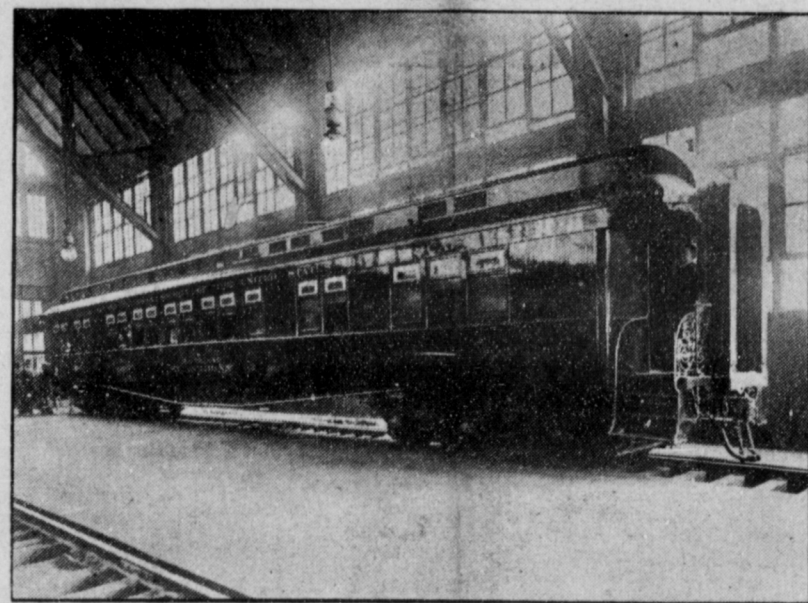

"O'Ryan held a unique position on the board," said a prominent school official. "He was neither a longhair nor a shorthair. He had a pretty level head, and everybody, I think, valued his opinion highly."

MUSICIAN AND POPE.

On November 14, the day of his jubilee, the Pope, it is understood, will himself inaugurate the new great organ of St. Peter's. This organ is stated to be the largest in the world, and has been erected by international subscription. Of course, the Pope does not propose to play in the presence of a congregation, although he is an able performer on the organ, but he will test the new instrument's powers before a select assembly of Cardinals. The maestro Perosi will be the performer at the public inauguration.

MISSIONARY

Spirit of Catholic Church Will Pervade Chicago For Four Days.

Greatest Gathering of Prelates Since Third Plenary Council.

Interesting and Instructive Will Be Papers Read by Delegates.

ENTIRE COUNTRY IS INTERESTED

At the call of the Most Rev. Archbishop Quigley a majority of the prelates composing the hierarchy of the United States, several hundred priests and thousands of prominent Catholic laymen will assemble in Chicago November 15 to 18 to attend the Missionary Congress. It will be the first of its kind held in the United States and will bring together the largest number of Bishops and Archbishops since the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore. It is believed that it will give an impetus to missionary endeavor which will be far reaching in its effect.

Archbishop Quigley, who has called the Congress in behalf of the Board of Governors of the Catholic Church Extension Society, says: "We are strong in the belief that this Congress marks the beginning of a new epoch as far as missionary endeavor in this country is concerned. The purpose of this Congress is to set forth in a clear light the mission needs, and to discuss ways and means whereby these needs may be met."

The clergy and laity of Chicago have been told off into subcommittees on reception and will meet the visiting delegates and escort them to suitable quarters. Automobiles will be placed at the disposal of all visiting prelates. Provision has also been made for the entertainment of lay delegates and the leading citizens of Chicago, irrespective of creed, will assist in showing all visitors every attention.

The first feature of the Congress will be the solemn procession from the Cathedral College to the Holy Name Cathedral at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning, November 15. The visiting dignitaries of the church will all take part in the procession. The officers of the mass will be selected from the heads of American missionary organizations. Monsignor Diomedeo Falconio, the Papal Delegate will preach the sermon, and Archbishop Blenk, of New Orleans, will be the master of ceremonies. At 1:30 p. m. the visiting prelates will be guests of Archbishop Quigley at luncheon. At 7:30 o'clock there will be Pontifical vespers in all the leading churches of Chicago and sermons on "The Missionary Spirit." At the Cathedral the Pontifical vespers will be under the auspices of the Catholic Church Extension Society of Canada, with the Most Rev. Patrick McEvoy, D. D., Archbishop of Toronto, presiding. Archbishop McEvoy will also preach the sermon.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to the Congress proper. Papers bearing upon every phase of mission activity will be read and afterward discussed. The delegates will be encouraged to give free expression to their views in the hope that practical results will flow from intelligent and serious discussion of these papers. As thirty nationalities will be represented the floor of the Congress will partake to a large extent of the Catholicity of the church. The parish has been recognized as the unit, and two delegates have been chosen from each of the 15,000 parishes in the country.

One of the most important topics for discussion will be the question of colonization and the good that may be done through systematic work along that line. Several priests from the South have been urging the Congress to take up the negro question. They point out that the colored man is quite industrious and an entirely inoffensive citizen when brought under the restraining influence of the Christian religion. The Indian question will also be discussed during the deliberations. The Very Rev. Father A. P. Doyle will read a paper giving facts and figures on what has been accomplished by the Catholic Missionary Union. Foreign missions will also come in for a share of the general discussion. The Catholic Truth Society, missions for deaf mutes and many other important topics will be discussed during the three days.

GREAT CROWDS

Are Attending Retreat For Young People at St. Anthony's.

The retreat for young people at St. Anthony's church, which has come to be an annual function, began at the 7:30 o'clock service Wednesday evening, and will close with a sermon and benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament tomorrow night. The Rev. Father Constantine, C. P., of Sacred Heart church, is conducting the services, and thus far both he and the pastor, the Rev. Father Leo Greulich, are well pleased with the attendance and the devotion exhibited.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings mass was celebrated at 5 o'clock, so that any who had to go to work early might do so. From 5:30 until 6 o'clock there was a brief instruction for those who could remain. In the evenings there was a sermon and benediction on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, but there will be no devotions tonight. Old and middle-aged people are attending the devotions as well as the young.

HOOSIER VISITOR.

H. S. Curley, general yardmaster of the Pennsylvania lines at Indianapolis, spent Monday in the Falls Cities as the guest of Capt. John A. Murphy, of Jeffersonville. Mr. Curley is one of the best known Irish-Americans in Marion county. He has been with the Pennsylvania Company twenty-nine years and has been yardmaster eight years.

NOTED

Dignitaries Who Will Attend the Coming Missionary Congress.

Archbishop of Boston Will Be One of the Interesting Figures.

Canada and Porto Rico Will Send Representatives to Chicago.

GREEK BISHOP ALSO COMING

Many dignitaries of note in the Church will attend the Catholic Missionary Congress in Chicago. Among them will be one who has had a remarkable career, a man who jumped from assistant parish priest to the rectorship of the American College in Rome, from there to the Bishopric of Portland, Me., and then to the Archbishopric of one of the largest and most important Sees in the United States, Archbishop William H. O'Connell, of Boston. He is a man with an immense capacity for work and never seems to tire or grow cold. His enthusiasm is of the very successful kind, which while it always keeps warm, never reaches the boiling point of those who press their opinion on the question that had been under discussion. Among those who responded were Supreme Director Charles F. Pfeffer and Grand Secretary Fred Reisz, of Indiana; Grand Council, Dr. A. J. Bizio, Thomas D. Cline, Charles S. Raily and Camden McAtee. The sentiment expressed by the majority was in favor of holding on to the old men as well as encouraging the young. Dr. Bizio, probably, made the most telling address.

Meanwhile the judges, Messrs. Sullivan, Henley, Kelly and Burke, were having a lively debate among themselves on the merits of the arguments. After an hour's deliberation Frank Morgan was called in, and then the decision was made in favor of the negative side of the proposition, but it was a close decision. The affirmative side was awarded thirty points on delivery and sixty-five on argument, while the negative got seventy on delivery and thirty-five on argument. The average points were negative, 52½; affirmative, 47½.

The Right Rev. Peter J. Muldoon, first Bishop of Rockford, Ill., will not formerly take possession of his See until December 15, and meanwhile will continue to discharge his duties as Auxiliary Bishop and Vicar General of Chicago. On taking up his new work his official residence will be in the city of Rockford, and St. James' church will be the Cathedral of the diocese.

Another important figure will be the Right Rev. Sator Ortynsky, Greek Catholic Bishop, who will be delegate at large for the priests and people of the Ruthenian rite. At present there are 108 Ruthenian priests in the United States, and of these twenty-six belong in the Pittsburgh diocese. Sixty-one of the whole number originally came from Hungary, and the remainder from Galicia or Polish Austria. The Ruthenians retain their ancient rites and ceremonies. Mass is said and the sacraments are administered in the old Slavonic language. It is estimated that there are 100,000 Ruthenian Catholics in the United States. A rather strange thing in connection with the priests of this rite is that many of them, at least many of those living in Europe, are not celibates. Rome has been slow to interfere with the privileges of the ancient churches and the Ruthenians, in common with the Greeks and Armenians, hold to the ancient custom in this regard.

URSULINE NUNS

Are Preparing For Three Days of Golden Jubilee.

The Ursuline Sisters will celebrate the golden jubilee of their advent into Kentucky at the mother house, 804 East Chestnut street, with solemn ceremonies on November 24, 25 and 26. The details of the three days' celebration have not been fully arranged.

The Ursuline Sisters were called to Louisville in 1858, when the illustrious Martin John Spalding was Bishop of this diocese. The Rev. Father Leander Streber, O. F. M., who was then pastor of St. Martin's church, went to Strasburg, Bavaria, to enlist the services of the Ursulines to teach in the parochial school. In response to the call three Sisters came to Louisville, arriving November 24, 1858. At that time there were fifty children attending St. Martin's, but since there are many hundreds attending that school, which is one of the largest in the city, and the Sisters of St. Ursula are still in charge of the girls' department.

Today the Ursuline Sisters have a wide field of labor in the diocese of Louisville, being engaged in eighteen parochial schools, and conducting academies—the Immaculate Conception at Shelby and Chestnut streets, Sacred Heart at Crescent Hill and Mount St. Joseph's Academy near Owensboro. Nor are their labors confined to Kentucky. They have extended their sphere of usefulness to other dioceses and have schools and academies in many different States. The Ursulines are teachers to the manor born.

It is probable that many dignitaries of the church from this and other dioceses will come to Louisville to attend the three days' golden jubilee.

OLD MAN WINS.

Negative Side of Question Victorious at Mackin Council.

While the crowd that heard the debate at Mackin Council Club House Thursday night of last week was not large, the interest was intense and the telling points made by the various speakers were enthusiastically applauded. The proposition was this: Resolved, That no member of the Y. M. I. order over thirty years of age is eligible to office in any of the subordinate councils. James T. Shelley and Ben J. Sand, both Past Presidents of Mackin Council, who have given their time and talents for its upbuilding during the past fifteen years, espoused the affirmative side of the proposition. Louis J. Kieffer and Samuel J. Robertson, younger but not less zealous members, took the negative side of the question.

The following members of the council were chosen judges: Patrick T. Sullivan, Thomas Henley, Michael Kelly and Robert T. Burke. Later Frank Morgan had to be called in as the fifth judge to cast the deciding vote.

The order of the speakers was Shelley, Robertson, Sand, Kieffer. Each debater had evidently made a thorough study of the question, and each skillfully answered minor propositions propounded by the opposing side. It was a debate worth hearing and small wonder was it that the judges were in a quandary.

When the judges retired to determine their finding Vice President Samuel J. Robertson presided and called upon various points to express their opinion on the question that had been under discussion. Among those who responded were Supreme Director Charles F. Pfeffer and Grand Secretary Fred Reisz, of Indiana; Grand Council, Dr. A. J. Bizio, Thomas D. Cline, Charles S. Raily and Camden McAtee. The sentiment expressed by the majority was in favor of holding on to the old men as well as encouraging the young. Dr. Bizio, probably, made the most telling address.

Meanwhile the judges, Messrs. Sullivan, Henley, Kelly and Burke, were having a lively debate among themselves on the merits of the arguments. After an hour's deliberation Frank Morgan was called in, and then the decision was made in favor of the negative side of the proposition, but it was a close decision. The affirmative side was awarded thirty points on delivery and sixty-five on argument, while the negative got seventy on delivery and thirty-five on argument. The average points were negative, 52½; affirmative, 47½.

BISHOP MULDOON.

The Right Rev. Peter J. Muldoon, first Bishop of Rockford, Ill., will not formerly take possession of his See until December 15, and meanwhile will continue to discharge his duties as Auxiliary Bishop and Vicar General of Chicago. On taking up his new work his official residence will be in the city of Rockford, and St. James' church will be the Cathedral of the diocese.

FAREWELL.

Kansas Pastor Retires After Forty-Five Years in Parish.

People of All Creeds and Races Turned Out to Do Him Honor.

Touching Valedictory of Father Kuhls Caused Many to Weep.

SAVED NO EARTHLY TREASURES

Kansas City, Kas., like Louisville, has lost through resignation and on account of advancing years the services of its most venerable parish priest, the Rev. Father Anton Kuhls. Father Kuhls had presided over the destinies of St. Mary's parish for forty-five years, and on October 25 took leave of his congregation as pastor. Still he will remain among them and will spend his declining years in St. Mary's Hospital, an institution which he founded.

That he was held in high esteem by people of all classes, creeds and races is shown by the following news item that appeared in the following day in the Kansas City Journal:

"Over 1,500 people crowded St. Mary's Catholic church in Kansas City, Kas., at the morning service yesterday. They represented every parish in the diocese of Leavenworth. Catholic and non-Catholic stood elbow touching in the narrow aisles. Religious differences were for the moment forgotten. The occasion was the farewell sermon of Monsignor, or better still, Father Anton Kuhls."

"Father Kuhls, in the plain black robe of a priest, sat through the services where he could be plainly seen by everyone, but took no part in the ceremonies. It could be seen his heart was scarcely more than half in the part that pertained to the farewell. But it was written in his thin gray hair and his wrinkled brow that the parting was indeed a sad one. Tears came to his eyes and dropped one after another upon his fingers as he told his beads. But filled with emotion as the Father apparently was, he showed considerable more self-control during the reading of his valedictory than did many of his commentators, who valued every word until it was necessary for him to raise a trembling hand to enjoin silence so that the priest could proceed."

"After the mass the Rev. Father Bernard Mohan presented the retiring pastor with a check for $1,720. It represented the gift, not only of the Catholics, but of Jews and Protestants and black and white. None was allowed to give more than ten cents, so that at least 17,200 people must have participated in the farewell testimonial. Father Mohan also presented Father Kuhls with a copy of the resolutions adopted at a meeting of St. Mary's parish."

"Father Kuhls did not feel equal to the task of reading his valedictory, so the task devolved upon Father Michale. In the beginning he spoke for his successor, whoever it might be, the confidence and good will of the parishioners. He admonished his people to let their children continue to attend the school mass as piously as they have done for the past forty-four years."

"I leave because I am physically and mentally no longer able to carry the burden. I brought to you a young man, a boy priest, forty-five years ago, and I take from you an old priest, of whom nothing is left but the shell. I have nothing to complain of, but I have countless reasons to thank God, and I have asked the choir and all of you to chant the Te Deum at the end of the services. You ask: 'Have you made any provision for your old age?' No and yes. I have no lands, no houses, no bank accounts. I had three daughters—St. Mary's church, St. Mary's school and St. Margaret's Hospital. For these I have spent all and am not sorry for it. The last and youngest daughter has promised to take care of me in my old days, and I feel sure she will do it. I shall not be a burden to St. Mary's, where I, as an irreparable rector, might have claimed my support till the end of life. I thank God I have saved no earthly treasures. I leave St. Mary's with as little as when I came to it forty-five years ago. I take not as much as a broom from the church or house. I leave all with you and for you except my library and my clothes. Even the fine chalice you gave me on my silver jubilee I leave with you. I ask nothing of you but your prayers and kind remembrance. I wish to be buried from this church, and then I ask all of you to go to holy communion in a body for me. May God bless you and your children, living and dead, for all your sufferings. Once more may we meet in heaven."

WORK FOR THE ALTAR.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Joseph's church, Bowling Green, will give its annual supper on either November 18 or 19. The proceeds go to the fund for decorating the altar, and as this is the principal source of revenue for the society the ladies always have a big attendance at their suppers.

HANDSOME NEW HOSPITAL.

The new St. Mary's Hospital to be erected at Milwaukee will cost $500,000. It will be built of steel, brick and stone and will have its own electric lighting and heating plant.

CONSCIENTIOUS VOTERS.

The election last Tuesday refuted the oft-repeated false statement that the Catholics are tied to one political party. There are Catholic Republicans and Catholic Democrats as well as Catholics who vote the Independent and Populist tickets both north and south of the Mason and Dixon line. The conscientious Catholic thinks before he votes. He does not blindly follow the first blatant blatherskite. He considers what will be to the best interest of his country, his State, city and fireside. If every American would vote as honestly, with as much forethought, and with as little prejudice as the Catholic, there would be fewer charges of fraud after elections.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Thoughtful, to say the least, was the report submitted by the October grand jury of the Jefferson Circuit Court at the close of its deliberation. In this paragraph alone there is food for reflection, and an admonition that other grand juries might profit by. Read and ponder:

"Those in self-imposed idleness should be made to work; those idle whose choice it is not deserve our help before their criminal stage. Those in poverty are fighting a losing struggle because of unnecessary burdens, but not until they get to pieces and become drunken, vagrant, criminal, diseased and suppliant do we consider mercy necessary. But in that day reclamation is almost impossible; the degeneracy of the adults infects the children, and the fault of our social miseries is thus perpetuated from generation to generation. From those struggling with poverty and idleness come the thousands who have lost all self-respect and ambition, who hardly if ever work, who are aimless and drifting, who like drink, who have no thought of their children, and live contentedly on rubbish and alms. There is a necessary and an unnecessary poverty. The former is that which comes about through intemperance, shiftlessness, laziness and depravity. This we suppose will always be with us. There is no power that can shield men or women from the penalties or the inevitable results of the violation of natural and moral laws. There is, on the other hand, an unnecessary poverty, due to certain social and industrial evils and wrongs that a self-respecting community can not continue to permit. We should find and put an end to the causes producing these conditions. 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.'"

United States Senator-elect William O. Bradley is the "biggest" man in Kentucky today from a Republican political standpoint. He will name the Collector of Internal Revenue for this and other districts, the Postmaster at Louisville and in other cities, the Surveyor of the Port and the Pension Agent. Mayor Grinstead, Marshall Bullitt and Robert Kinkead will not have a look-in in Louisville. When the snow flies all the rabbit tracks will be found around the Bradley bush. He made a clean fight and deserves to distribute the spoils.

An effort was made a few days before election to get His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, to express himself on the political situation. Politely but firmly the Cardinal declined to discuss politics. He said that every man had a right to form his own opinion on such matters, and while he had formed an opinion he declined to make it public lest it might be inferred that he, as a churchman, was using his office for political purposes. The attitude of Cardinal Gibbons and that of many of the Protestant ministers is widely diverse.

For the magnificent showing made by Democracy in Kentucky this year all honor is due to Hon. Ben Johnson, of Nelson county. Although a candidate for re-election to Congress from the Fourth district, he sacrificed his personal interests for the party's good. His friends in the Fourth took care of his affairs while he piloted the party in the State to victory. The people will not forget his good work, and three years hence he can have the gubernatorial chair if he wishes it.

COUNTY PRESIDENT INSTALLED.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H., held a regular meeting Wednesday night, and the fact that Miss Fannie Kennedy was to be installed as County President brought out a larger crowd than usual. Miss Rose Sweeney, the division President, occupied the chair and conducted the installation ceremony. Two new members were obligated and five applications were received, so that there is a class of at least fifteen awaiting initiation. The next meeting, November 17, will be an open one, with a reception, literary and musical programme and refreshments. The members of the four A. O. H. divisions are cordially invited to attend. The Ladies' Auxiliary shows a steady and a healthy growth.

HON. SWAGAR SHERLEY, Four Times Elected to Congress.

Clifton-Crescent Club Bids For Favors From Friends.

The Clifton-Crescent Club, composed of the best people in Clifton and Crescent Hill, will give a euchre at the Belmont Club next Wednesday afternoon and evening. The afternoon game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and the evening game at 8:30. Many handsome prizes will be distributed during each game. The management is in the hands of such well known gentlemen as T. H. Merimee, Joseph Russell, Joseph X. Kissack, George Martin and Peter Heim, while the following ladies will lead their efforts toward making the affair a success: Misses Rosa Shea, Joe Kelly, Lena Orth, Miss Rudy, Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. William Brady and others.

The reputation of the Clifton-Crescent Club insures a pleasant time for all. A feature of the club's game that has been appreciated and commented upon is that five minutes are allowed for each, long enough to satisfy lovers of euchre. The funds that accrue will be devoted to a deserving cause.

OFFICIAL PAPER.

Pope Plus X. Will Publish Semi-Monthly Bulletin Next Year.

Official copies of the Apostolic Constitution recently enacted by Pope Plus X. were received in New York City last Saturday, according to the New York World. From the new Holy See it is learned that His Holiness intends to publish an official bulletin from the Vatican every two weeks. The World says: For ages the method of promulgating the Pontifical constitutions and laws has been to affix copies of them to the doors of the Vatican and Lateran basilicas and some of the other more frequented places of Rome. What was thus promulgated for all nations and gave to the enactments the force of laws. Not all acts were thus treated; some were held to be legitimately promulgated merely by the announcement of their passage by the Sacred Congregations.

"Yet this form of promulgation," says the Pope in his latest constitution, "although quite legal, fell short of that solemnity which should be connected with the acts of the supreme authority. For this reason many Bishops have frequently urged on our predecessors and on ourselves, both in the past and especially when they have been consulted recently on the codification of canon law, that a bulletin should be issued by the supreme authority of the church for the promulgation of the new ecclesiastical laws and the publication of the Pontifical acts."

"After having taken this plea into serious consideration and heard the opinion of some of the Cardinals of the Holy Roman Church and having come to the conclusion that the wishes of the said Bishops might be complied with, we do, by our apostolic authority and in virtue of the present constitution, decree that at the beginning of the coming year 1909 there shall be published by the Vatican printing press an official bulletin of the acts of the Apostolic See. Hence it is our will that the Pontifical constitutions, laws, decrees and other ordinances of the Roman Pontiffs of the sacred congregations and offices, inserted and published in this bulletin with the authorization of the Secretary of the chief officer of the respective congregations or offices, shall be held to be legally promulgated by this sole and only method."

GOT IN BAD.

Reform Policeman Must Answer to Charge of False Swearing.

J. B. Coons, one of the "reform" policemen, must answer in the courts as to why he registered during the supplemental registration days, when the records show that he was not only in the city, but was on duty in the First police district while the regular registration was in progress. Coons was summoned before the County Judge last Monday to show cause why he had registered from 110 East Chestnut street. He failed to answer satisfactorily, and Judge Peter ordered his name stricken from the list of voters. It also developed that at the supplemental registration he had made an affidavit that he had been unavoidably absent from the city on the regular registration days. His superior, Capt. William Schmidt, furnished proof that Coons was in the city and on duty at the time he swore he was unavoidably absent.

Coons was accordingly arrested on a charge of false swearing, and was presented in the Police Court Tuesday, but the case was continued until Friday.

SAFE JOURNEY.

Venerable Father Bax Tells of Trip Across the Ocean.

The Very Rev. Father Bax has written letters to relatives in Louisville giving an interesting account of his voyage across the ocean. He writes from Diessen, Holland, his destination. Father Bax says he was not ill a day during the journey, despite the tempestuous weather, but the sea was so rough that he was unable for several days to celebrate mass. There was plenty of music on the steamer Statendam, on which he and his niece, Miss Dymphna Veeneman, sailed, and they had concerts every day with "Yankee Doodle" and other American national airs. The Scilly Islands were the first land sighted after leaving New York.

The venerable rector of St. John's landed at Rotterdam, Holland, where he was met by his nephew, the Rev. Father Notten, and the Rev. Father Vrooman, his grandnephew. Both of these priests visited Louisville on the occasion of Father Bax's golden jubilee a few years ago. These Rev. Fathers escorted Father Bax and his niece to Diessen, where Father Notten has charge of a large parish. Father Bax expected to remain a few days at Diessen, and then to take up his permanent abode with the Sisters of Charity in Tilburg.

Both Father Bax and his niece are in good health, but found the weather much cooler in Holland than when they left Kentucky.

FOUNDATION BEGUN.

The excavation for the new church of St. Cecilia has been completed and work on the foundation was begun by Julius Piazza & Bro., contractors, early this week. The first stone was laid Wednesday by the pastor, Rev. Father A. J. Brady. There were present at the time the contractors and a number of Father Brady's personal friends and members of the parish. The foundation will be completed in three weeks if the weather is favorable, but it is not intended to begin the superstructure before next spring.

ON EQUAL FOOTING.

The Catholic Church in America ceased to be a missionary country on Tuesday, and is now on the same footing with the churches of Germany and other European countries. Each Bishop and Archbishop in the United States will appoint an agent or representative for his diocese in Rome. Hereafter ecclesiastical matters will be taken up by one of the various congregations of Cardinals instead of by the Propaganda.

HOPKINS THEATER.

Motion pictures were again the attraction at Hopkins Theater this week, and the patrons of the theater were just as well satisfied as ever. Tuesday night the election returns from the principal States were given between the pictures, and before the pictures were shown the patrons were satisfied that the majority had been cast one way. Next week Manager Dustin promises new films and new features.

NEW CASINO OPENED.

The Casino, Louisville's latest moving picture theater, opened under favorable auspices Tuesday. It is located at 417 Fourth avenue, and is one of the coziest and most ornate amusement houses in the city. It has been crowded every afternoon and evening since its opening. Like the Princess, Bijou and Dreamland Theaters, the Casino is under the management of the Princess Amusement Company.

NEW KENTUCKY JOURNAL.

The Owensboro Saturday Night, a magazine newspaper, made its initial appearance last week, and is a welcome addition to the ranks of Kentucky journalism. ## HANDSOME CANDELABRA.

St. Aloysius' congregation at Covington had a great entertainment in the way of motion pictures last Sunday night, and before it closed the Rev. ## HARDSHIPS

That Confront Bishops and the Priests in Philippine Islands.

Eminently a Christian Nation But Badly in Need of Clergy.

Irish Redemptorists Have Made a Foundation in City of Cebu.

LOW PERCENTAGE OF PAUPERS

The Catholics of the United States have little idea of the hardships of the priests and Bishops in the Philippine Islands. The Right Rev. Bishop Hendrick, of the Diocese of Cebu, has spent months in the United States and Ireland in an effort to secure more clergy to look after the spiritual welfare of his scattered flock. He is now en route to Rome and will not return to his See before spring.

There are 7,500,000 of people in the Philippines, of whom 5,500,000 are Christians. Of the remainder about 500,000 are Mohammedans of the most fanatical and blood-thirsty kind. They had been preying upon Christianity up to a short time ago, when the American Government took a hand. Since then they have become fairly orderly. The remaining 500,000 are Moros or members of other non-Christian and warlike tribes.

Of the 6,500,000 Christians there are many without priests and churches. They are divided into many tribes and speak thirty-eight different languages. In the diocese of Cebu alone there are 2,000,000 people, with 135 native and 115 European priests to care for their spiritual welfare. Of the total 139 belong to religious orders, while the remainder are secular priests. This would leave one priest to each 10,000 people, but local conditions are such that not even one priest can be assigned to each 10,000. As a consequence there are at least 500,000 Catholics in Cebu who are without the ministry of the clergy. Hence it is that Bishop Hendrick has found an appalling task before him.

In many, in fact nearly every case the European priests that go to the Philippines are unable to speak or understand the language of the natives. This is another great handicap. Yet there are in the diocese of Cebu eighteen young Irish Redemptorists who are accomplishing much good for the faith.

Many of the Christian residents in Cebu can read and write, but only 7 per cent. can speak English. In the city of Cebu they have a very large church, college and monastery built by the Jesuits in 1595, and it has been educating the people for the past four centuries, and still there are many untutored among the natives.

In 1904 there were sixty-four vacant parishes in the diocese of Cebu, now there are thirty-three vacancies, and it is hard to get priests to fill them. While the Filipinos are poor they are hard working as a rule, and the percentage of paupers among them is less than in the United States.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The Central Committee of the C. K. of A. will meet at St. Mary's Hall, Eighth and Grayson streets, next Friday night. It is expected that some word will be heard from Kentucky Trustees Quinn, of Brooklyn, and Croghan, of Providence, R. I. If so, arrangements will be made by the Central Committee to entertain them either on their way to St. Louis or en route home.

FATHER HEAGAN HONORED.

The Rev. Father Matthew I. Heagan, O. P., who for some time past has been pastor of St. Patrick's church at Columbus, Ohio, has been elected Prior of the Dominican House of Studies, an adjunct of the Catholic University at Washington, D. C. Father Heagan was one of the assistant priests at St. Louis Bertrand's church in this city a few years ago. He is a renowned orator and noted theologian.

CURFEW BELL.

Pastor of Chicago Parish Believes in Caring For Children.The Rev. Father Denis Hayes, pastor of St. Rose of Lima's church Chicago, has established a curfew law in his parish, and at 9 o'clock each night all the children must be off the streets. The bell in St. Rose's tower rings at 8:45 and fifteen minutes later Father Hayes sallies out with his blackthorn stick, but it is said he finds any youngsters disobeying his edict.There is scarcely a man, woman or child "back of the yards" who does not know Father Denis, and all who know him love him. For a generation he has baptized them, married them, and comforted them in the hour of death. His authority is in no way absolute, but that of any czar, for it is based on the greatest force in the world—affection."Sure, they may seem rough, but it is all on the surface," he will say with a kindly twinkle in his shrewd eyes. "But there is not a boy or girl of them who would think of defying Father Denis and they obey
the curfew as they never have obeyed anything else in their lives. Their parents set them the example, for the roughest man in the parish moderates his voice and becomes respectful when the well known form of the priest comes in view."His parishioners are not the mildest mannered people in the world and the children do not regard their parents with the respect and obedience which are inculcated by copy book maxims. But there is not a boy or girl of them who would think of defying Father Denis and they obey
the curfew as they never have obeyed anything else in their lives. Their parents set them the example, for the roughest man in the parish moderates his voice and becomes respectful when the well known form of the priest comes in view.

EUCURE AND OYSTERS.

The ladies of Holy Trinity church,
New Albany, are making great preparations for their double eucure and oyster supper to be held at the

GOOD OMENS

Foreshadow a United Ireland to Back Parliamentary Party.

Orangemen and Nationalists Join Hands On the Land Question.

Two Notable Meetings Held With Landlords and Patriots Together.

EDITOR'S WORDS OF WISDOM

That landlords and tenants of Ireland should ever meet on one platform to urge the British Government to complete a piece of legislation for the settlement of the land purchase question would have seemed a dream twenty years ago, says the able editor of the Dundalk Democrat. He adds that such a thing has happened in Munster and County Monaghan. At the Dundalk meeting Lord Barrymore and William O'Brien amicably proposed and seconded resolutions on this question, and at the North Monaghan meeting Lord Rossmore and Major Madden, of Roslea, both pronounced Orangemen of Ulster, sat and spoke on the same platform with the Nationalist Chairman of the County Council and such stalwart patriots as Patrick Whelan. Continuing the editor of the Dundalk Democrat says:

Yet, after all, what is this but a proof of a new spirit that is growing up in Ireland? It is not but in its infancy, but the spirit of mutual toleration is here, and it is growing. Men are beginning to see that they can hold diverse political opinions and yet not hate each other for the love of country—or party. The Nationalist who joins hands with the Orangeman or Unionist who is willing to work with him in any cause likely to do any practical good for Ireland, is no less a Nationalist; nor, for that matter, does the Unionist forfeit his political belief though he refuse to swallow any longer the doctrine long taught him by that professional politicians of his party that Nationalists are ogres or incendiaries. In Ireland, as in other countries, there are political parties. And in Ireland, as in other countries, there is no reason why people of diverse political opinions should not get together for the common good of the country. Does any danger threaten England's position, her trade or her social well-being; and do not Englishmen of all parties unite to save her? Why then should not the Nationalists and Unionists unite for the benefit of Ireland in promoting the industrial revival, in lifting from their shoulders the burden of over-taxation, and such matters? Why should not landlord and tenant unite in making the land purchase act of 1903 achieve the results which were expected of it? It does not follow that tenants will pay any higher prices for their lands, any more than that landlords will accept a less, because they unite in calling to have the act put fully and quickly into operation to complete the transfer of the land into the hands of the tenant.

There is a disposition in some quarters to regard this joint action of landlord and tenant as a political danger, from the Nationalist point of view. The Irish party at their meeting this week deprecated the bringing of "landlords identified with the demands for a renewal of coercion to act with Irish tenants on committees or deputations to the Government on the subject of land purchase. We can readily understand the position of the Irish party in the matter, and we freely admit their claim to the continued confidence of the tenantry of Ireland. It is to the Irish party—that is to the Irish led by Parnell and his lieutenants—we owe the very existence of the Irish tenantry, and it is very largely to the Irish party we owe the land purchase act. If we were to turn their backs on the Irish party and to look for light and guidance to the landlords, there is no reason at all why the two classes should not join on equal terms in demanding what it is the interest of both to obtain.

There are hundreds of Irish estates, and there will be hundreds more before November 1, on which the tenants are paying 3½ per cent. on the purchase money—and in some cases even a higher rate—because the Treasury is not prepared to find the cash for the completion of the transaction; while the landlords on the other hand are deprived of the advantages which the possession of the money would give them. The last issue of land stock showed that there is no difficulty about getting the money, and it also suggests that the Treasury is issuing the stock at too cheap a rate. There is the further question whether it is fair to saddle the Irish taxpayer with the losses on flotation of stock. It is idle now to discuss the right or wrong of the purchase act. The wrong of the thing is that a treaty has been made, with some give and take on both sides, and ratified and sealed by Parliament, and that the Treasury stands in the way of carrying that treaty into full and immediate effect. The matter seems to us to be one calling for a United Ireland.

SUPREME OFFICERS

Are Coming to Inspect the Local Commanderies of Knights.

Gen. P. P. Fetting, of Shelbyville, Ind., Supreme President of the Knights of St. John, and Gen. C. W. Wallace, of Columbus, Ohio, Supreme Secretary, will come to Louisville tomorrow on an official tour of inspection, and the eight Commanderies of the three Falls Cities will be on hand to greet the distinguished visitors. Col. Henry Felhoelter and Adjutant Clem Wiegand will meet the Supreme officers in Jeffersonville and will escort them to dinner. The combined commanderies will attend solemnly at St. Anthony's church in the afternoon, after which all will adjourn to the school hall, where addresses will be made by the Rev. Father Jerome Preissler, O. F. M., Leo G. M. O. P. M., Gen. Fetting, Gen. Wallace, William M. Higgins and Attorney Newton G. Rogers. The general public is invited, and a special effort is being made to get as many young men as possible to attend. The meeting will be called to order at 4 o'clock. The first commandery of the order in Louisville was organized in 1874 with Henry Felhoelter as Colonel, and he has been very active in its interest for the past thirty-four years. In the Falls Cities there are eight commanderies, one Ladies' Auxiliary and one company of cadets. The local staff is made up as follows: Col. Theodore Poppe, Lieut. Col. Joseph Bates, Major H. H. Vonderheide, Major Herman Bloemer and Adjutant Clem Wiegand.

MACAULEY'S THEATER.

"The Devil" is the succinct but abrupt title of the drama to be given at Macauley's Theater during the latter half of next week with a matinee on Saturday. "The Devil" is said to be not so bad as he is painted, and the show has met with great encores in the East.

VICTORY

Once More Perches Upon Banners of Republican Hosts in Battle.

For Third Time in His Career William Jennings Bryan Is Defeated.

Hon. Swagar Sherley Wins His Fourth Successive Race For Congress.

HOSPITAL BONDS ARE DEFEATED

The great political battle that is waged in the United States every four years has been fought and won again, and for the fourth consecutive time the Democratic candidate for the Presidency has gone down in defeat. William Jennings Bryan lost his battle in 1896 by advocating the free coinage of silver; in 1900 he lost again because the people had not forgotten the Bryan campaign of 1896. In 1904 Alton B. Parker, of New York, was the Democratic standard bearer, but he failed to receive the support of the Western Democrats and former advocates of Bryan policies. In 1908 the people saw Bryan the candidate for a third time. He goes down in defeat again. It is three strikes and out for Bryan.

When the ballots are counted it will be found that Kentucky will give Bryan a majority of from 15,000 to 20,000 and that she will have eight Democratic Representatives in the United States House of Representatives with two out of the remaining three districts still in doubt.

Hon. Swagar Sherley, the Democratic candidate for Congress to succeed himself, wins by a vote of something over 2,000 in this district, and it may mean as much as 2,500 before the official count is completed. Congressman Sherley ran approximately 3,000 votes ahead of Bryan in this district, and shows that the voters of Jefferson county endorse their able Representative for a fourth term in Congress.

The Democrats did not fare well in the School Trustee races, winning and losing four candidates. Rufus J. Gough, the Democratic nominee in the First ward, won over William Schaeffer, the Republican; A. J. Doneck defeated S. J. Hall, his Republican adversary in the Second and Third wards. In the Fourth and Fifth wards Dr. E. J. Buechel, the Democratic nominee, went down in defeat before Gus C. Rietze, and Dr. I. N. Bloom, the Republican nominee in the Sixth and Seventh wards, defeated Dr. G. B. Wilson, the Democratic nominee, who was a candidate to succeed himself. One of the surprises of the day was the defeat of James Norton, the Democratic candidate in the Eighth and Ninth wards, by Dr. O. B. Haack. The Tenth ward, always a Republican stronghold, elected A. H. Bennett School Trustee over Henry Schimpler, the Democratic candidate. The Democrats of the Eleventh and Twelfth wards redeemed themselves by electing August J. Klein and Dr. H. W. Borman over Dr. J. H. Helms and R. B. Watts. This will make the reorganized School Board stand eight Republicans and six Democrats.

In the Fifth Magisterial district, composed of the First, Second and Third wards, Adam Spahn, the Democratic nominee, left his Republican opponent, George W. Yeager, at the post and won by at least 1,000 votes. Helm Bruce, a very successful corporation attorney, apparently wins the race for Park Commissioner over Gen. John B. Castleman, by the narrow margin of ninety-four votes. Theophilus Stern succeeds himself in the race for Alderman, defeating Nathan Kahn, the Democratic candidate, by something over 500 votes.

Last but by no means least the proposed issue of bonds to the extent of $1,000,000, for the erection of a new City Hospital, was overwhelmingly put to sleep. Not only did the measure lack the necessary two-thirds of all the votes cast, but there was a decided majority voted against the measure.

ST. JOSEPH'S DRAMATIC CLUB.

For the last four weeks the members of St. Joseph's Dramatic Club, composed of young men of St. Joseph's congregation, have been diligently rehearsing the drama known as "The Outing." The enthusiasm for the drama is so great that the parts are being put into their respective parts in the best of spirit and they will be able to please and entertain a large audience on the two nights of their performance, Sunday, November 15, and the following Tuesday. Tickets, which can be had at St. Joseph's rectory, 1320 East Washington street, are twenty-five cents each, with ten cents extra for reserved seats. The drama will be enacted in St. Joseph's school hall, and the proceeds will go to the church.

TRINITY'S NEXT DANCE.

Trinity Council will hold the third of its series of select dances next Thursday night. The two previous dances have been well attended, and this one promises to be the banner event of the series. The last dance before Advent will be given on Thanksgiving night, November 26. All the dances are given at the new club house, Baxter and Morton avenues.
